

600.161 Exploring Vision in the Real World Interession 2009

Group Project

Donald Trump is interested in funding a startup vision company consisting of a group of college students.

Objective:

Come up with a proposal to present to him. You want to impress him with your innovative vision application or product. You want to show that it's feasible given the current or near-future technologies.

Initial:

1. Come up with a company name.
2. Come up with job titles for each person in your group.
3. Sign up for a presentation time slot.
4. Email a brief description of your idea by end of third class, 1/13

15 minute presentation grading criteria:

1. Detailed design of your vision application or product.
2. Explain feasibility and innovativeness.
3. Detailed budget of how much the product will cost.
4. Show timeline for your product to reach market.

Presentations during last class, January 21.

Email powerpoint presentation to me by the end of Fri, 1/23